

7-20-09

The Delmarva Foundation

Position: Diabetes Educator

Position Summary:

The Delmarva Foundation has embarked on a project to improve the health of Medicare beneficiaries with diabetes. We are looking for Diabetes Educators to work in our Columbia, MD office. This position is responsible for conducting culturally sensitive Diabetic Self-Management Education sessions to Medicare beneficiaries, family members, and caregivers of the persons living with diabetes. Delmarva will provide successful candidates professional training to become a master trainer in a recognized program called the Diabetes Empowerment Education Program (DEEP).

Responsibilities

Maintain a working knowledge of the clinical and operational aspects of all assigned projects

Capture data in diverse community sites

Liaison with customers and assist in assuring customer satisfaction

Coordinate technical resources, and develop implementation plans and measurement techniques for Diabetes Education initiatives

Prepare written reports, and present report results to meet customer needs

Requirements

A Bachelor's degree in a health related field is required.

Additional requirements:

Candidate must have met all of the requirements for certification to become a Certified Diabetes Educator by the National Board of Certification for Diabetes Educators (NBCDE) except the 1,000 hours/two-year job experience to be eligible to sit for the NBCDE certification examination.

OR:

A Master's degree in a Health related field.

In addition, the candidate should have recent experience in working with underserved populations in diverse communities, preferably with the elderly. Excellent oral and written communication skills and problem solving skills are essential. Must be proficient in Word, Excel and PowerPoint. Must be a self-starter who can work with minimal supervision as well as effectively as a member of a multi-disciplinary team. Must be willing to work a flexible schedule, and have own transportation to travel within the greater District of Columbia/Baltimore metropolitan area.

About Delmarva

Delmarva Foundation is a highly successful and rapidly growing not-for-profit company with a passion for excellence and over 35 years of experience in health care. We offer an attractive compensation package with the opportunity for professional growth.

To Apply please visit the website listed below

<https://delmarva.ats.talentxpress.com/cgi-bin/a/highlightjob.cgi?jobid=329>

For immediate consideration, please provide your resume and salary requirements.

7-20-09