PRESENTATION TOPICS
• Using theory to guide intervention research
• Designing intervention studies
• Minimizing threats to validity
• Measurement in intervention research
• Designing and maintaining fidelity in intervention research
• Explaining mediator and moderator effects on intervention outcomes
• Recruitment and retention strategies
• Strategies for successful grant writing, with an emphasis on federal applications (NIH, AHRQ, PCORI)

Interactive Exercise Breakout Sessions
Participants are encouraged to bring a grant application for which they plan to submit a proposal. Ample time will be given throughout the workshop to work on the proposal. We will provide interactive exercises that will help you write a complete and comprehensive grant. Expert faculty will also be available to provide guidance and feedback as you work through the application. This is your chance to come with an idea and leave with a plan!
